Open Training Information & Guidelines 2022

ABOUT OPEN TRAINING:

Women's Circus supports our community to train and strengthen through our Open Training program. We offer scheduled open training sessions in our training space to provide a safe environment for our members, trainers and professional practicing circus artists to strengthen and maintain existing skills.

Applications are welcome from the following groups:

- Current training Women's Circus members
- Professional practicing circus artists

Open Training Hours:

Open Training hours will be dependent on venue availability and reflected in the MindBody booking platform. As Women's Circus programs, workshops and venue hires take priority, if a scheduled Open Training Session clashes with them the session will be cancelled, you'll be notified by email and the session pass will be added back on to your account to be used for a future session.

Visit the Open Training page on our website to see available times and book in.

How to apply for Open Training:

- All Open Training participants are required to have completed the application process and be approved by Women's Circus prior to attending an Open Training session.
 - Professional Practicing Circus Artists must apply to the program with proof of professional skills, including video footage. (The Women's Circus will assess the applicant's skill level and provide them with any limitations of training that they believe safety requires). Applicants may be required to undergo a competency assessment prior to their first open training sessions.
 - Circus Training Members are required to be attending a term class and have their class trainer complete a skill level form on their behalf. This form is accessible to the venue supervisor to ensure members are working within their competency.
- If you haven't completed the application process (filled out an application form and had it approved through the appropriate channels) you will not be able to participate in Open Training and may have to forfeit payment made.

For more information you can visit our Prices & FAQs page.

How to book a session:

1. Read this document and fill out the Application Form.
2. Submit your Application Form to the appropriate person for approval:
 - a. Training members - take your filled-out Application Form to class and have your trainer review and approve the "About Your Practice" section of the form. Then submit your form to info@womenscircus.org.au for approval.

- b. Professional Practicing Circus Artists must submit your form to info@womenscircus.org.au for approval with appropriate materials attached.
3. Visit the Open Training page to pay for and book into your session.
 4. If your Application Form hasn't been approved when you arrive to Open Training you will not be allowed to train and you will forfeit the payment for that class as per our Prices & FAQs.
 5. To commence Open Training, you must check in with the Venue Supervisor at the start of each session to have your name checked off and to ensure your application has been approved. If it is your first session you must undergo a safety induction before training.
 6. You are required to follow the direction and safety advice of Women's Circus staff while in the space.

Note: You must have booked in prior to the session via MindBody. See the Open Training page on our website for more information. If you haven't booked into an Open Training session through MindBody or the Open Training page you will not be able to participate in Open Training.

Cost:

- Members - $8 per session
- Non-members - $10 per session
- Women's Circus Trainers – Free

You can buy a single session or 5-packs for convenience. These sessions have a 12 month expiry so you have plenty of time to use them.

Indemnity & Insurance:

- All participants must complete the indemnity form attached to the application form.
- It is recommended that all applicants have Personal Accident Insurance and Ambulance Cover. Note that emergency transport can cost over $2000.
- Women's Circus is not in any way responsible for exacerbation of injuries, accidents, or injuries resulting from participation in Open Training and will not cover any medical expenses or loss of income that arise as a result.
